Ryerson Special Students: Students must apply through the Ryerson Office of Admissions/Liaison for Special Student Status and be granted such status before being eligible to enrol in these courses. Preference will be given to students who hold a university degree with some business background. The restrictions placed on Special Students are due to limited space and extremely high demand for courses from Ryerson Degree students, who are given priority in loading.

For more information, please contact Ryerson Continuing Education for the 100-500 series by phone at (416) 979 5035 or Ryerson Admissions for the 700-800 series by phone at (416) 979 5036.
