

Fair Registration Practices Report

Certified General Accountants (2009)

The answers that you submitted to OFC can be seen below.

This Fair Registration Practices Report was produced as required by:

- the Fair Access to Regulated Professions Act (FARPA) s. 20 and 23(1), for regulated professions named in Schedule 1 of FARPA
- the Health Professions Procedural Code set out in Schedule 2 of the Regulated Health Professions Act (RHPA) s. 22.7 (1) and 22.9(1), for health colleges.

Provision of Information About Registration Practices (1 / 13)

Describe how you make information about registration practices available to individuals applying or intending to apply for registration. Specify the tools used to provide information, and the manner in which you make that information available, current, accurate and user friendly in each of these subcategories:

a) steps to initiate the registration process

CGA Ontario provides information on steps for registration processes to individuals who are applying, or intending to apply for registration by the following tools: publications such as the CGA Ontario Program of Professional Studies booklet; the CGA Ontario websites (www.cga-ontario.org and www.cga-yourcareer.org); the Ontario Government Career Map website; CGA Ontario Information Sessions; and Client Service Advisers.

Student Services client service advisers are available to provide information in-person at reception, by phone, and by email during regular business hours of 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday.

CGA Ontario's website is easily found by Google Search and is the first item on the search feature.

b) requirements for registration

CGA Ontario provides information on requirements for registration to individuals who are applying, or intending to apply for registration by the following tools: publications such as the CGA Ontario Program of Professional Studies booklet; the CGA Ontario websites (www.cga-ontario.org and www.cga-yourcareer.org); the Ontario Government Career Map website; CGA Ontario Information Sessions; and Client Service Advisers.

Student Services client service advisers are available to provide information in-person at reception, by phone, and by email during regular business hours of 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday.

CGA Ontario's website is easily found by Google Search and is the first item on the search feature.

Online and hardcopy application forms are available and these forms include further instruction and information. To make the process user friendly, online information for prospective students is grouped into three categories: high school, post-secondary, and internationally trained professionals.

Applicants who meet the criteria for enrolment are required to submit an application with applicable fees by the established deadlines. Deadlines and fee information are listed in the tools mentioned above.

The CGA program is open to permanent residents of Ontario who are either Canadian citizens or landed immigrants or who hold a valid study visa. The CGA program welcomes applicants with a variety of educational backgrounds, such as:

- A bachelor's degree
- A college diploma
- A secondary school diploma
- Partial post-secondary credits

All of the above scenarios are acceptable for application for registration in the program. Mature students (over the age of 21) will also be accepted.

c) explanation of how the requirements for registration are to be met, such as the number of years of schooling required for a degree to be deemed equivalent to an Ontario undergraduate degree, length and type of work experience, credit hours or program content

In order to register as a student in the CGA program, an applicant must meet one of the following criteria: a Canadian bachelor degree or equivalent; Canadian college diploma or equivalent; partial post-secondary studies; secondary school diploma; mature student; professional designation.

The maximum number of years in the program and the number of required courses to be completed are determined through a transfer credit evaluation of prior courses and education. The maximum length of time in the program is outlined in chart form. The chart is available in the Program of Professional Studies booklet, on the CGA Ontario website, and in the Student Handbook.

For information on the requirements to receive the CGA designation, please refer to Section 8/13 a).

d) any education or practical experience required for registration that must be completed in Ontario or practice that must be supervised by a member of the profession who is registered in Ontario

There is no practical experience required for registration. CGA Ontario's practical experience requirement must be completed before obtaining the CGA designation. Information about the practical experience requirement is available on CGA Ontario's website, in the Student Handbook, and in the CGA Canada Syllabus.

The degree requirement does not need to be satisfied in order to enrol into the CGA program of professional studies, however the degree requirement must be satisfied in order to obtain the CGA designation.

e) requirements that may be satisfied through acceptable alternatives

The degree requirement may be satisfied through integrated degree opportunities with post-secondary institutions such as Laurentian University. This information can be found in the Program of Professional Studies booklet, Student Handbook, CGA Ontario website and by speaking with a client service adviser.

CGA Ontario transfer credit policies are posted on CGA Ontario's website. The website posts each transfer credit policy held with different Ontario colleges and universities.

CGA Ontario website information posted for internationally trained professionals provides instruction for applicants to declare their accountant qualifications from other jurisdictions during their application for transfer credits. CGA Canada has mutual recognition agreements (MRAs) with the Association of Chartered Certified Accountants (ACCA), CPA Ireland, and CPA Australia. Information and details about these MRAs can be found on CGA Canada's website.

f) the steps in the assessment process

CGA Ontario provides information on the assessment process to individuals who are applying, or intending to apply for registration by the following tools: publications such as the CGA Ontario Program of Professional Studies booklet; the CGA Ontario websites (www.cga-ontario.org and www.cga-yourcareer.org); the Ontario Government Career Map website; CGA Ontario Information Sessions; and Client Service Advisers.

Student Services client service advisers are available to provide information in-person at reception, by phone, and by email during the regular business hours of 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday.

The CGA Ontario website is easily found by Google Search and is the first item on the search feature.

Online and hardcopy application forms are available and these forms include further instruction and information. To make the process user friendly, online information for prospective students is grouped into three categories: high school, post-secondary, and internationally trained professionals.

Steps can include:

- An applicant submits a transfer credits application form, which includes a list of subjects for which transfer credits are being sought; degrees, diplomas and/or designations in progress or completed; and institutions from which transcripts will be forwarded to CGA Ontario.
- The applicant receives a transfer credit evaluation report showing which transfer credits have been granted, any challenge exam privileges granted, and status of the degree requirement. The report also includes information and further clarification on why requested transfer credits have not been granted, the internal review process, an expiry date (two years from the date of the report), and a recommended date of enrolment.
- The applicant submits an application for enrolment form.

The section of CGA Ontario's website on internationally trained professionals provides additional details about the assessment that may be of relevance and interest to individuals who have or are planning to emigrate to Ontario.

g) the documentation of qualifications that must accompany each application; indicate which documents, if any, are required only from internationally trained applicants

Typically, CGA does not require internationally trained applicants to provide additional documentation unless additional documentation is required for determination of degree equivalency or for purposes of document language translation.

For assessment purposes, CGA Ontario requires official sealed transcripts to be forwarded directly from domestic and international post-secondary institutions and professional organizations. Alternatively, individuals may attach an official sealed transcript (unopened institution envelope). This is explained on the application for transfer credits form and CGA Ontario's website.

If individuals applying to the CGA program of professional studies hold a designation, an official membership letter indicating 'active member in good standing' is also required. If an individual is seeking transfer credits for courses completed outside of Canada, the Association may request an evaluation report of these documents from a Canadian university to determine Canadian degree equivalency. If additional information is required (i.e., syllabus, grade legends, etc.) the individual will be contacted. Official proof of name change is required if documents are in a different name.

CGA Ontario provides information on documentation and qualifications to individuals who are applying, or intending to apply for registration by the following tools: publications such as the CGA Ontario Program of Professional Studies booklet; the CGA Ontario websites (www.cga-ontario.org and www.cga-yourcareer.org); the Ontario Government Career Map website; CGA Ontario Information Sessions; and Client Service Advisers.

Student Services client service advisers are available to provide information in-person at reception, by phone, and by email during the regular business hours of 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday.

The CGA Ontario website is easily found by Google Search and is the first item on the search feature.

h) acceptable alternatives to the documentation if applicants cannot obtain the required documentation for reasons beyond their control

If an individual is experiencing difficulty in obtaining an official sealed transcript sent directly from an institution, the individual may attach their official sealed transcripts in an unopened institution's envelope.

If an individual advises CGA Ontario of difficulties and insurmountable obstacles in obtaining official sealed transcripts due to civil strife, conflict or devastation in the academic institution's country, a waiver application form is available which instructs the individual to explain the difficulty in obtaining official sealed transcripts and to submit their personal original educational documents. This information is provided through email and phone communication with client service advisers, admission and registration staff, and front desk personnel.

i) how applicants can contact your organization

CGA Ontario provides contact information individuals who are applying, or intending to apply for registration by the following tools: publications such as the CGA Ontario Program of Professional Studies booklet; the CGA Ontario websites (www.cga-ontario.org and www.cga-yourcareer.org); the Ontario Government Career Map website; CGA Ontario Information Sessions; and Client Service Advisers.

Student Services client service advisers are available to provide information in-person at reception, by phone, and by email during the regular business hours of 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday. Applicants can contact CGA Ontario by calling toll free at 1-800-668-1454 during the above business hours..

The email address info@cga-ontario.org is provided for general inquiries; emails received at this address are redirected to the appropriate department for reply.

The Student Handbook provides a list of various Student Services email addresses for specific question categories.

The Program of Professional Studies booklet and CGA Ontario website provide a list of contact information for all CGA Canada and CGA international offices.

j) how, why and how often your organization initiates communication with applicants about their applications

CGA Ontario has frequent contact with prospective applicants by email, phone or letter. Enrolment deadline reminder emails are sent to prospective students four times per year, prior to each enrolment deadline as well.

The application for transfer credits form states that if additional information is required, CGA Ontario will contact the prospective student. If there is delay in receiving required documentation for transfer credit application processing, CGA Ontario will follow up with the prospective student after 20 days have passed to inquire on status of outstanding documents. CGA Ontario will also inform the applicant after all required information is received for the transfer credit application and confirm that it has been forwarded for processing.

k) the process for dealing with documents provided in languages other than English or French

If an official transcript is not in English, individuals are required to have transcripts translated by a certified translation agency or notary. This is verbally mentioned to individuals who call our client service advisers and is mentioned in the Program of Professional Studies booklet, as well as on the CGA Ontario website.

CGA Ontario's website provides the contact information for the Association of Translators and Interpreters of Ontario (ATIO).

The additional cost for translation of educational documents is the responsibility of the applicant.

l) the role of third-party organizations, such as qualification assessment agencies, organizations that conduct examinations or institutions that provide bridging programs, that applicants may come into contact with during the registration process

CGA Ontario may utilize third party organizations for comparison of international post-secondary education to Canadian post-secondary studies. CGA Ontario recognizes third parties' reputable assessment services for degree equivalency by World Education Service (WES), University of Toronto Comparative Education Service, National Recognition Information Centre (NARIC), International Credential Evaluation Services (ICES), and International Qualification Assessment Service (IQAS).

The application for transfer credits form states that CGA Ontario may seek an evaluation of documents by a recognized comparative education service.

m) any timelines, deadlines or time limits that applicants will be subject to during the registration process

Submission deadlines and time limit information is provided to individuals who are applying, or intending to apply for registration by the following tools: publications such as the CGA Ontario Program of Professional Studies booklet; the CGA Ontario websites (www.cga-ontario.org and www.cga-yourcareer.org); the Ontario Government Career Map website; CGA Ontario Information Sessions; and Client Service Advisers.

Student Services client service advisers are available to provide information in-person at reception, by phone, and by email during the regular business hours of 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday.

There are four enrolment deadlines per academic year to which individuals must adhere. These deadlines are available through the tools above.

n) the amount of time that the registration process usually takes

CGA Ontario provides information on the amount of time that the registration process usually takes to individuals who are applying, or intending to apply for registration by the following tools: publications such as the CGA Ontario Program of Professional Studies booklet; the CGA Ontario websites (www.cga-ontario.org and www.cga-yourcareer.org); the Ontario Government Career Map website; CGA Ontario Information Sessions; and Client Service Advisers.

Student Services client service advisers are available to provide information in-person at reception, by phone, and by email during the regular business hours of 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Timelines of evaluation and processing periods are stated on all application forms. The transfer credit assessments timeframe is approximately 20 business days once all required documentation is received.

Processing for enrolment by hardcopy applications is approximately 15 business days; processing for enrolment by online application is immediate and in real time once applicable fee is paid.

For students who require additional assessment of international documents prior to enrolment, the entire registration process, from the application for transfer credits to application for enrolment in the program, could take approximately 35 business days.

o) information about all fees associated with registration, such as fees for initial application, exams and exam rewrites, course enrolment or issuance of licence

Information for all fees associated with registration, initial application, exams and exam rewrites, and course enrolment can be found in the following tools: publications such as the CGA Ontario Program of Professional Studies booklet; the CGA Ontario websites (www.cga-ontario.org and www.cga-yourcareer.org); the Ontario Government Career Map website; CGA Ontario Information Sessions; and Client Service Advisers.

Student Services client service advisers are available to provide information in-person at reception, by phone, and by email during the regular business hours of 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday.

General information about dues and fees related to application for membership and certification is provided in the Student Handbook. The Member Services department contact email address is provided for inquiries about the membership application process.

p) accommodation of applicants with special needs, such as visual impairment

The Program of Professional Studies booklet and Student Handbook describe the CGA program as a work-study program and advise that a minimum of 20 hours per week of study is usually required while working full-time. The CGA Ontario program is an online program, and students are advised of minimum computer and software requirements. Applicants who have special needs can contact CGA Ontario to explain their special needs and inquire how the Association would be able to assist and accommodate them through the following ways: telephone, email, letter, and in person as CGA Ontario's office is equipped with wheelchair access.

As an individual's special needs may vary, CGA Ontario can make arrangements for special needs during exam writing sessions. With requests for special exam writing arrangements, CGA Ontario requires official verification documentation from a physician outlining the special need.

Please identify and explain the changes in your registration practices relevant to this section that occurred during the reporting year.

In November 2009, the transfer credit process was reviewed and several process changes were made to dramatically improve response time and customer service to candidates. Process changes included:

- Implementation of performance metrics and activity tracking for management review and corrective actions.
- Establishment of new internal guidelines for processing.
- Streamlining of roles and responsibilities for greater ownership and process efficiency.
- Immediate electronic communication of transfer credit assessment results to students upon processing completion.
- Utilization of additional trained resource during peak periods.
- Additional communications with the student to improve customer service and keep him/her apprised of application status, processing timeframes, and review of results.

Implementation of the above changes have resulted in approximately 90% of transfer credit applications being processed within 5 business days, after all required documentation has been received.

CGA Ontario made a change to registration practices during the reporting timeframe which now allows individuals to enrol in the study program if they hold a valid study visa that does not prohibit attendance or study with a professional association and/or organization.

Amount of Fees (2 / 13)

Are any of the fees different for internationally trained applicants? If yes, please explain.

The CGA Ontario registration fees are the same for domestic and international students.

Additional third party fees may apply to internationally trained applicants if they are required to provide additional information for assessment of transfer credits or degree equivalency. For instance, applicants may incur fees from AITO for translation services or processing fees from a recognized comparative education service for degree equivalency.

Please identify and explain the changes in your registration practices relevant to this section that occurred during the reporting year.

Provision of Timely Decisions, Responses and Reasons (3 / 13)

a) What are your timelines for making registration decisions?

Results of transfer credit assessments, done prior to enrolment, require approximately 20 business days from the time all required documentation is received.

Processing time of hardcopy enrolment application forms is approximately 15 business days. Online enrolments are instant and in real time once applicable fee is paid.

b) What are your timelines for responding to applicants in writing?

Once an assessment of transfer credits is completed, applicants are emailed instructions the same day for viewing results online. A hard copy of the assessment result is also mailed to the applicant.

c) What are your timelines for providing written reasons to applicants about all registration decisions, internal reviews and appeal decisions?

Transfer credit reports are issued within 20 business days advising applicants of the transfer credits granted based on submitted educational documents. The transfer credit report also has a comment section explaining why certain transfer credits requested have not been granted.

If the applicant requests an internal review related to a transfer credit assessment, a decision letter is provided within eight weeks of receiving the internal review request including reasons for the decision.

Confirmations of enrolment for hard copy applications are issued within 15 business days; online enrolment confirmations are provided instantly and in real time once applicable fees are paid.

If the applicant requests an appeal related to registration, a decision letter is provided within eight weeks of receiving the appeal including reasons for the decision.

d) Explain how your organization ensures that it adheres to these timelines.

Measurements are in place to monitor and adhere to timelines. These methods include:

- Yearly, monthly, weekly, and sessional reporting deadlines
- Electronic document tracking

- Random sampling of processed registrations for review
- A “first received-first served” process for administration of applications
- Establishment of performance metrics
- Internal meetings for process review and discussion

If required, additional support by trained staff is used closer to deadlines or when there is a large volume of applications.

Please identify and explain the changes in your registration practices relevant to this section that occurred during the reporting year.

BACK TO INDEX

Access to Records (4 / 13)

a) Describe how you give applicants access to their own records related to their applications for registration.

CGA Ontario provides prospective students, as well as students who are enrolled in the CGA program of professional studies, access to view their evaluation report, academic status, course history, enrolment status, and document tracking. To view hardcopy files, written requests are required.

Copies of letters by CGA Ontario can be provided upon request.

b) Explain why access to applicants' own records would be limited or refused.

All official transcript and other educational documents become the property of CGA Ontario and are not released to third parties. Official documentation received from educational institutions usually state the document is not to be released to the applicant.

CGA Ontario would limit or refuse access to an applicant's own records to comply with the Fair Access to Regulatory Practices Act (FARPA) Access to Records, Article 12, subsections 1 and 2.

c) State how and when you give applicants estimates of the fees for making records available.

Students have access to their academic records and document tracking online at no charge. Estimates are not required.

CGA Ontario's board of governors approves fees each academic year and the set fees are listed on CGA Ontario's website and published in the Program of Professional Studies booklet and Student Handbook, which are posted as PDFs on the CGA Ontario website.

d) List the fees for making records available.

Fee for official transcript of CGA Ontario academic record for current students: $50

Fee for official transcript of CGA Ontario academic record for lapsed students: $75

Fee for a status letter for current students: $50

Fee for a CGA transcript and detailed information package to be provided to other professional programs for current students: $75

e) Describe the circumstances under which payment of the fees for making records available would be waived or would have been waived.

Fees for obtaining records are not waived unless an administrative error was made by CGA Ontario. These types of situations are handled on a case by case basis.

Please identify and explain the changes in your registration practices relevant to this section that occurred during the reporting year.

BACK TO INDEX

Resources for Applicants (5 / 13)

a) List and describe any resources that are available to applicants, such as application guides, exam blueprints or programs for orientation to the profession.

Publications related to student studies include the Program of Professional Studies booklet, Student Handbook, and CGA Syllabus. Students have access to exam blueprints, exam reprints, and exam statistics. Review sessions, audio lectures, and exam critiques are also available. Online tutorial sessions, including CGA Ontario's WebTutor and WebCoach programs, are available to support students' distance learning.

To learn more about the profession, students receive access to salary survey information, employment referral services, and career management services. Students can also sign up for email discussion lists to participate in discussions with other students and CGAs about various accounting and financial management topics.

Students can also register to participate at various events hosted by CGA Ontario chapters.

On a pilot basis, CGA Ontario partnered with a third party organization to offer partial sponsorship of CGA Ontario students to participate in a communication skills for professionals (CSP) program. Students can qualify to participate in CSP for Internationally Educated Professionals (IEPs) or CSP for native English speakers (candidates possessing English as their first language).

b) Describe how your organization provides information to applicants about these resources.

Information about resources is available on CGA Ontario's and CGA Canada's websites, in the Program of Professional Studies booklet, and in the Student Handbook. Client service advisers can also provide this information when applicants contact CGA Ontario in person, by phone, and by email.

Please identify and explain the changes in your registration practices relevant to this section that occurred during the reporting year.

WebCoach and WebTutor were added as resources during the reporting timeframe. WebCoach was designed to provide guidance, inspiration and motivation, and to help students effectively budget their time and maximize the use of course materials and study resources. WebTutor provides online academic support to help students succeed in courses.

Internal Review or Appeal Processes (6 / 13)

In this section, describe your internal review or appeal process. Some regulatory bodies use these two terms (internal review and appeal) for two different processes, some use only one of these terms, and some use them interchangeably. Please use the term that applies to your profession. If you use both terms (for two different processes), please address both.

a) List your timelines for completing internal reviews or appeals of registration decisions.

CGA Ontario did not receive any appeals related to registration decisions as the CGA program of professional studies is open to applicants from a variety of backgrounds such as: bachelor degree, college diploma, partially completed degree or diploma, secondary school diploma, mature student.

i. State the number of internal reviews or appeals of registration decisions that exceeded your timelines.

None.

ii. Among internal reviews or appeals that exceeded your timelines, state the number that were from internationally trained applicants.

None.

b) Specify the opportunities you provide for applicants to make submissions regarding internal reviews or appeals.

Applicants are given the opportunity to request an internal review for transfer credit evaluations reports in writing through a formal letter format or through various email addresses.

Applicants are given the opportunity to request an appeal for registration by submitting a formal letter to the Vice President of Student Services.

c) Explain how you inform applicants about the form in which they must make their submissions (i.e., orally, in writing or by electronic means) for internal reviews or appeals.

Applicants are given the opportunity to request an internal review for transfer credit evaluation reports. The request must be in writing. Information detailing the process is included on the transfer credit report, CGA Ontario program of professional studies and on the CGA Ontario website.

Applicants are given the opportunity to request an appeal for registration by submitting a formal letter to the Vice President of Student Services. This information would be included in any enrolment denial letter.

d) State how you ensure that no one who acted as a decision-maker in a registration decision acts as a decision-maker in an internal review or appeal of the same registration decision.

Academic credential coordinators make initial assessment decisions. If an individual requests an internal review, a written request is then brought forward to the Registration Management Appeals Panel, which consists of three managers in the student services department.

In cases where an applicant is denied registration, the applicant can appeal to the Admissions Standards Committee, which is a committee of the CGA Ontario Board of Governors.

For both the internal review and appeal processes, the initial decision-maker is not involved in the internal review or appeal decision. Internal documentation records the original assessor and those involved in the review or appeals process.

e) Describe your internal review or appeal process.

Transfer credit internal reviews are addressed to the attention of the Registration Management Appeals Panel. Please note that the panel is not an appeal process but an internal review process. The internal review request must:

- Be word-processed, signed, dated, and submitted by regular mail, fax or email.
- State which additional transfer credit(s) the individual is requesting.
- Include all pertinent details, stated clearly and concisely.
- Be accompanied by supporting documents (course descriptions, syllabus, etc.).

Internal reviews are assessed by the Registration Management Appeals Panel on a monthly basis. Decision letters are forwarded by regular mail to the individual within eight weeks from the date of submission.

A maximum of two internal reviews per course is permitted. A second internal review is allowed only if additional information or documentation is provided. A second internal review is also assessed by the Registration Management Appeals Panel.

Registration appeals are addressed to the attention of the Vice President of Student Services. The appeal must:

- Be word-processed, signed, dated, and submitted by regular mail, fax or email.
- State the grounds for the appeal.
- Include all pertinent details, stated clearly and concisely.
- Be accompanied by supporting documents

Registration appeals are reviewed by the Vice President of Student Services on a per session basis. Decision letters are forwarded by regular mail to the appellant with 20 business days.

f) State the composition of the committee that makes decisions about registration, which may be called a Registration Committee or Appeals Committee: how many members does the committee have; how many committee members are members of the profession in Ontario; and how many committee members are internationally trained members of the profession in Ontario.

The Registration Management Appeals Panel has three members from the student services department management team. The panel members are required to have specific knowledge and experience related to domestic and international educational programs and policies. Currently there are no CGAs or internationally trained members of the profession on the panel. However, the panel may consult CGA Ontario staff, outside of the student services department, who are internationally trained members of the profession and/or members of the profession.

Please identify and explain the changes in your registration practices relevant to this section that occurred during the reporting year.

BACK TO INDEX

Information on Appeal Rights (7 / 13)

This section refers to reviews or appeals that are available after an internal review or appeal. Describe how you inform applicants of any rights they have to request a further review of or appeal from a decision.

The option for a second and final internal review is stated on the transfer credit evaluation report and on CGA Ontario's website. Students would also be advised of this option when inquiring with CGA Ontario's client service advisers by email or phone.

The option for a second and final registration decision appeal would be contained in their enrolment denial letter.

Please identify and explain the changes in your registration practices relevant to this section that occurred during the reporting year.

BACK TO INDEX

Assessment of Qualifications (8 / 13)

This category covers your processes for assessing all qualifications, such as academic credentials, competencies, language ability or practical experience.

a) List the criteria that must be met in order for an applicant's qualifications to satisfy the entry-to-practice requirements for your profession.

To be eligible for admission to membership as a certified general accountant, individuals must meet three main requirements as prescribed by the CGA Ontario board of governors:

- Satisfy the CGA program of professional studies' course requirements or equivalents, consisting of 17 courses, two business cases and two professional application courses.
- Satisfy the university degree requirement by holding a Canadian bachelor degree or equivalent conferred by a recognized degree-granting institution.
- Satisfy the practical work experience requirement, which includes having 36 months or more of work experience in accounting and/or financial management fields, of which 12 months must be in Canada at a senior/professional level.

b) Describe the methodology used to determine whether a program completed outside of Canada satisfies the requirements for registration.

CGA Ontario has transfer credit policies in place for most international professional accounting bodies. These transfer credit policies are continually assessed by a national transfer credit workgroup to ensure equivalency with CGA course content and competency requirements.

CGA Ontario uses a database to research and compare international degrees to Canadian qualifications. If a search through the database does not have any result or provides insufficient information, the applicant would be advised to contact a third party comparative education service.

Regardless of one's prior academic qualifications, all individuals must satisfy membership requirements by completing mandatory CGA academic and work experience requirements.

c) Explain how work experience in the profession is assessed.

The practical work experience requirement is assessed on the basis of professional competencies that a student has demonstrated through full-time employment positions. Before qualifying for certification, candidates must demonstrate that s/he has progressed to a position which requires a well-rounded knowledge of accounting or finance and/or a high degree of responsibility. Every candidate must be able to report 36 months or more of relevant work experience, of which 12 months or more must be in Canada at a senior/professional level.

Students report their work experience using a national, online questionnaire. Questionnaires are evaluated by both association staff and work experience assessors. The Association's student experience review committee may also provide a third assessment of a student's submission. Work experience assessors and committee members are volunteer CGAs.

d) Describe how your organization ensures that information used in the assessment about educational systems and credentials of applicants from outside Canada is current and accurate.

CGA has national transfer credit policies in place for most international professional accounting bodies which are continually assessed and updated by a CGA Canada national transfer credit workgroup to ensure CGA Canada course content equivalency. Assessments are made within the scope of CGA Canada's competency framework, which prescribes competencies that CGA candidates must demonstrate through education, examination, and/or practical work experience.

For international post-secondary degrees, CGA Ontario may ask for a comparative evaluation of a degree or diploma by a credential evaluation service organization such as World Education Services (WES), University of Toronto's Comparative Education Service (CES), International Credential Evaluation Service (ICES), International Qualifications Assessment Service (IQAS), or National Recognition Information Centre (NARIC). Once a Canadian equivalency is determined transfer credits would be evaluated on a course by course basis similar to Canadian colleges and/or universities.

e) Describe how previous assessment decisions are used to assist in maintaining consistency when assessing credentials of applicants from the same jurisdictions or institutions.

Review of transfer credit policies established with different academic institutions and professional associations are done each academic year. Updates received from academic institutions regarding their changes to individual course curriculum are used to update transfer credit policies.

CGA Ontario updates its database of information on international programs each academic year.

f) Explain how the status of an institution in its home country affects recognition of the credentials of applicants by your organization.

The status and recognition of an institution within its own country may affect the level of transfer credits granted. For example, if an institution has been accredited by its own central/federal government due to regulated and rigorous programs and standards, additional transfer credits may be awarded to that institution compared to a private institution within its own country where program standards are not reviewed or regulated.

g) Describe how your organization accommodates applicants with special needs, such as visual impairment.

As an individual's special needs vary, CGA Ontario requires official verification from a physician outlining the special need. Depending on the special need, special examination requirements would be established for the individual.

h) State the average length of time required to complete the entire registration process, from when the process is initiated to when a registration decision is issued.

The transfer credit assessment timeframe is approximately 20 business days once all documentation is provided. The hardcopy application for enrolment timeframe is approximately 15 business days; online enrolment is instant and in real time once applicable fee is paid. For students who require an assessment prior to enrolment, the entire registration process is approximately 35 business days.

i. State whether the average time differs for internationally trained individuals.

The requirements and steps in the registration process are the same for both domestic and international individuals. However, the average length of time required to complete the registration process may take longer for an internationally trained individual if a degree equivalency or translation is required.

ii. If the average time differs for internationally trained individuals, state whether it is greater or less than the average for all applicants, and the reasons for the difference.

The average time to complete the registration process would only take longer for an internationally trained individual if there is a delay in the Association's receipt of the individual's official transcripts, status letters from international institutions or organizations, translated documents, and/or academic equivalency reports.

i) If your organization conducts credential assessments:

i. Explain how you determine the level (e.g., baccalaureate, master's, Ph.D.) of the credential presented for assessment.

CGA Ontario has a database containing several years of comparative evaluation education service documents. This data is utilized to determine the equivalency of an international degree to a Canadian degree. If the information is not available in the CGA Ontario database or through an online evaluation service, the individual would be requested to obtain an equivalency assessment through an established and reputable credentials assessment service, such as WES or the University of Toronto.

ii. Describe the criteria that are applied to determine equivalency.

To determine which courses are eligible for transfer credit status and equivalent to CGA Canada course content, various factors would be considered, including the year the education was completed, grades obtained, and the country in which the education was obtained (i.e. commonwealth status).

iii. Explain how work experience is taken into account.

Work experience is not normally used in credential assessment of prior education. However, if an individual's post-secondary education was completed over 10 years ago, work experience may be reviewed to confirm whether the individual's job responsibilities have required the knowledge of past academics, to determine whether transfer credits would still be relevant.

j) If your organization conducts competency assessment:

i. Describe the methodology used to evaluate competency.

Students in the program are evaluated against a set of national CGA competencies, which combine critical underlying knowledge with the skills and professional values deemed essential for professional accountants. They are organized around the roles, tasks, and responsibilities of the profession in a structure known as the CGA competency framework. The CGA competency framework outlines specific professional competencies that CGA candidates must demonstrate through education, exams, and work experience in order to be certified. Competencies are written as statements that define the work of a professional accountant so that CGA Ontario can assess whether candidates have met the standard expected by clients, employers, and the public.

Students in the CGA program must satisfy the requirement of four Professional Applications and Competence Evaluations (PACE) level courses either by completing the full course or through a challenge exam privilege. At the core of PACE is a set of professional competencies – the skills and abilities a candidate for certification must demonstrate to a specified level of proficiency. Completion of the PACE level requirement ensures that CGA Ontario certifies accountants with the highest level of professional and managerial expertise.

For the work experience requirement of the program, students' professional competencies are evaluated using an online questionnaire. The questionnaire asks students to provide their employment history, a report of their past and current work experience in various foundation and professional level responsibilities, and their employer's evaluation, feedback, and attestation. The completed questionnaire is evaluated by both CGA Ontario's staff and work experience assessors.

ii. Explain how the methodology used to evaluate competency is validated, and how often it is validated.

Every three to five years, the competency framework is evaluated and kept up-to-date at a national level through professional practice analysis.

Transfer credit policies are reviewed annually at a national level through the CGA Canada transfer credit workgroup. CGA Ontario uses a database of international program content to conduct comparisons of transfer credits to CGA courses, and this database is updated annually. CGA Ontario's liaisons at Ontario colleges and universities provide updates of their course content and program changes to CGA Ontario so that transfer credit policies can be updated.

The online work experience questionnaire is validated and updated periodically at a national level by CGA Canada, with participation by CGA Ontario and other provincial affiliates. A national work experience workgroup, comprised of representatives from provincial affiliates, meets quarterly to discuss the competency evaluation questionnaire.

The work experience competency evaluation process is audited by the Association's student experience review committee. The committee audits 10 per cent of all submissions to ensure the administrative and assessment processes are compliant with board policy and guidelines.

Course and exam content is reviewed annually at a national level with participation from CGA Ontario and other provincial affiliates. Course and exam review committees are established each year to conduct a comprehensive discussion, review, and revision of content and solutions.

iii. Explain how work experience is used in the assessment of competency.

A student's work experience is evaluated to determine if a student has demonstrated professional development and an understanding of organizations and business functions. In addition to applying the concepts, skills, and judgment abilities learned through the CGA program, a report of their work experience provides opportunity for students to explain how they have been able to demonstrate professional knowledge, leadership, communication skills, and professionalism. As part of the work experience evaluation process, a student's employer also reports feedback, comments, and verification of the student's report.

k) If your organization conducts prior learning assessment:

i. Describe the methodology used to evaluate prior learning.

CGA Ontario does not conduct prior learning assessments of applicants' independent study, volunteer activities, hobbies, or other forms of nonformal education.

CGA Ontario does conduct an assessment of an applicants' previous formal education for the purpose of granting transfer credits and recognizing degree status.

ii. Explain how the methodology used to evaluate prior learning is validated, and how often it is validated.

CGA Ontario does not conduct prior learning assessments of applicants' independent study, volunteer activities, hobbies, or other forms of nonformal education.

CGA Ontario does conduct an assessment of an applicants' previous formal education for the purpose of granting transfer credits and recognizing degree status.

iii. Explain how work experience is used in the assessment of prior learning.

CGA Ontario does not conduct prior learning assessments of applicants' independent study, volunteer activities, hobbies, or other forms of nonformal education. CGA Ontario does consider work experience when conducting a competency assessment of applicants' previous formal education, for the purpose of granting transfer credits and recognizing degree status, if the formal education was completed a significant number of years (over 10 years) before.

I) If your organization administers examinations:

i. Describe the exam format, scoring method and number of rewrites permitted.

Exam format varies for different courses and may contain a mixture of question styles such as multiple choice, short answer questions, true or false questions, calculation questions, and long answer response questions. A final grade of 65 per cent is required in order to pass an exam. A grade between 50 and 64 per cent on a sessional exam allows the student to reattempt the exam without being required to repeat course assignments. A maximum of four unsuccessful exam attempts is permitted for each course.

ii. Describe how the exam is tested for validity and reliability. If results are below desired levels, describe how you correct the deficiencies.

National examiners, who are qualified academics from the university community or well-recognized practitioners in the discipline of study, prepare the exam questions each year.

To ensure validity and reliability, exams are then reviewed by provincial exam review committees. These workgroups consist of CGAs in different provinces who specialize in the exam subject matter. The committees recommend changes to exam questions or rewording to the examiner.

For written exams where average results are below expected levels, a CGA national education committee meets to thoroughly review the exams and discuss the results. Upon consensus by the committee, marks may be adjusted.

iii. State how often exam questions are updated and the process for doing so.

Examination development and review is conducted each year.

A complete examination set, including all examinations required for a course throughout the year, and the corresponding suggested solutions are prepared by a CGA Canada course examiner. Each examiner is a highly qualified academic from the university community or a well-recognized practitioner in the discipline of study. In some cases, the examiner is also the course author. In collaboration with the course author, the examiner prepares a practice examination for the current academic year.

Once an examiner has prepared the complete examination set and the corresponding suggested solutions, the documents are reviewed by subject matter experts. These reviews include independent content and quality control reviews by CGA-Canada staff. In addition, reviews of certification examinations are performed by two separate committees of subject matter experts administered by provincial/territorial affiliates. The purpose of these reviews is to ensure each examination has appropriate content coverage, relationship to course material, proper form, accuracy, and clarity. A designated committee chair is responsible for resolving any difficulties directly with the examiner.

Please identify and explain the changes in your registration practices relevant to this section that occurred during the reporting year.

Third-Party Organizations (9 / 13)

a) List any third-party organizations (such as language testers, credential assessors or examiners) relied upon by your organization to make assessment decisions.

CGA Ontario accepts and uses comparative evaluation reports by a credential evaluation service organization such as World Education Services (WES), University of Toronto's Comparative Education Service (CES), International Credential Evaluation Service (ICES), International Qualifications Assessment Service (IQAS), and National Recognition Information Centre (NARIC).

b) Explain what measures your organization takes to ensure that any third-party organization that it relies upon to make an assessment:

i. provides information about assessment practices to applicants

CGA Ontario visits and reviews third party organization's websites to review information provided to applicants. CGA Ontario staff attend training sessions and/or information sessions hosted by the service providers and receive their information mailings.

ii. utilizes current and accurate information about qualifications from outside Canada

CGA Ontario may review an assessment from one third party organization and compare it to another third party organization's assessment. If a discrepancy is found, the parties are contacted for further discussion and evaluation.

iii. provides timely decisions, responses and reasons to applicants

Timeframes for third party assessments differ by organization. Timeframes for processing and responses are listed on the third party's website; often there are expedited services for a higher fee. NARIC is an online service which provides immediate reports.

If an applicant experiences delay in receiving a report from a third party, the applicant can contact CGA Ontario. At this time, staff may contact the third party to assist in facilitating the progress or learn of any issues that need to be resolved to complete the assessment.

iv. provides training to individuals assessing qualifications

CGA Ontario does not review or influence the training or hiring qualifications used by third party assessment organizations.

v. provides access to records related to the assessment to applicants

CGA Ontario does not review or influence the records access policies used by third party assessment organizations.

vi. accommodates applicants with special needs, such as visual impairment

CGA Ontario does not review or influence the third party assessment organizations' policies for accommodating applicants with special needs.

c) If your organization relies on a third party to conduct credential assessments:

i. Explain how the third party determines the level (e.g., baccalaureate, master's, Ph.D.) of the credential presented for assessment.

The third party assessment organizations use their own databases, guidelines, and experience to perform assessment evaluations.

ii. Describe the criteria that are applied to determine equivalency.

Third party assessment organizations' criteria can include official, sealed documents, from degree or diploma programs, completed or incomplete; program admission requirements, grades or marks obtained, majors or specializations, years of study, length of program, country of study, proof of name change, and English translations.
